Dear Parents, Guardians and Carers,

Happy Friday! I cannot tell you how glad I am to be back with all of you and your children. Thank you very much for the extremely warm welcome I have received since returning. I have truly missed you all, and it has been wonderful to see the school continuing to be such a happy, vibrant, and caring place. It has warmed my heart to walk through the school and see the children engaged in their learning and enjoying being part of our school community. The positive atmosphere across the school is something to be very proud of. Although this is a very short half-term, we still have some exciting events and learning opportunities ahead. Next week we will be celebrating World Book Day, which is always a wonderful occasion to share a love of reading and imagination. We are also looking forward to the upcoming Year 5 Dance Festival on Monday 9th March, which I know the children are very excited about. Have a lovely weekend.

Reception

This week in Reception, we have been busy exploring, learning through play, and building our early reading and number skills. It has been lovely to welcome some new children to the class recently, and we are enjoying getting to know them. The children have shown fantastic curiosity and growing independence in their activities. Please continue to read at home and practise recognising sounds and numbers - even a few minutes each day makes a big difference.

Safeguarding: Update for parents and carers

Keeping children safe is a shared responsibility between school and home. This week, we encourage all parents to stay alert to small changes in behaviour, mood, friendships, or online activity. These changes can sometimes signal that a child may need extra support. If you have any concerns about your child's wellbeing, please contact the school - we are here to listen and help. By working together, we can ensure every child feels safe, supported, and heard.

World Book Day is fast approaching and we will all celebrate next Thursday with the rest of the world, however All Saints' will also be having a special event on the day before! Next Wednesday, every class will have the opportunity to create their own costume for World Book Day based on a book character or creation of their choosing. Whilst we are providing a wide range of materials, we kindly ask that students bring in before next Wednesday any unwanted clothes: child or adult, we don't care! (as long as they're clean). All of these will be incredibly helpful in allowing our students to cut, sew and construct their own costume to wear on World Book Day. Let's help their imaginations soar and their skills to thrive!
