Dear Parents, Guardians and Carers,

We've had a great week in school with lots to celebrate. We marked World Book Day in style, and it was fantastic to see the children in such creative handmade costumes. There was a real buzz around the school as classes shared favourite books and stories. Thank you to parents and carers for the time and effort you put into supporting the children with their costumes – it really helped make the day special. We were also pleased to take a group of children to Candlewood Care Home for a poetry reading by author Sophie Ward. It was a lovely opportunity to enjoy poetry in a different setting and spend time with members of the local community. We were very proud of the children and were delighted to receive such positive feedback about their behaviour and engagement. Next week we are looking forward to more exciting events, with Year 5 attending the dance festival and Year 3 visiting the Science Museum. Wishing you a blessed weekend.

Reception

Reception had a wonderful time celebrating World Book Day this week. The children looked fantastic in their costumes and were very excited to share their favourite stories with their friends. Throughout the day, they enjoyed listening to a range of different books, taking part in story-themed activities and talking about the characters they love. Thank you to parents and carers for helping the children come to school in such brilliant costumes and for supporting their love of reading at home.

Safeguarding: NSPCC

The NSPCC's guidance on children, mobile phones and online safety is a useful resource for DSLs to draw on when communicating with parents. It addresses one of the most common questions schools are asked: when is a child ready for a phone, and how can families manage the risks? The guide offers balanced, practical advice on readiness, boundary-setting, parental controls, and ongoing conversations about safe and responsible use.
